"All the great men the world has ever had, in music, poetry, science etc., have all been children. We don't know what the child will become, but he possesses a great force, and if he is to develop to the best of his capabilities by the time he is a man, it is essential that he obeys all the laws of nature during his development."

Maria Montessori, The 1946 London Lectures, Page 136

LEARN MORE AT MONTESSORI150.ORG

1870 – 2020
MARIA 150
MONTESSORI

—Pioneering Woman | Global Social Impact—